ENGLAND FACES GRAVE LABOR WAR

Tuesday Midnight 2,000,000 Will Be Idle as Wage Cut Protest

CALL MILITARY OUT

Labor to Make Final Peace Move in Parley With Premier Today—Papers Condemn Strikers

London, April 9.—Tuesday midnight, unless there is some new development meantime, will see the commencement of the greatest labor struggle in the country's history.

Approximately 2,000,000 workers then will have ceased their duties in protest against what they consider to be an organized attempt on the part of employers to enforce a general reduction in wages.

This is the central fact of the labor situation as it developed today in a breakdown in the miners' conference and a consequent decision by the triple alliance—made up of miners and railway and transport workers—for the first time since it was organized that its entire membership, roughly estimated at 1,000,000 miners and 500,000 each from the railway and transport workers' organizations, should quit work in support of the strike of the miners.

The Government's standpoint as voiced by Premier Lloyd George in a brief speech in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, is that the action of the miners and the other members of the triple alliance is an attempt by direct action to intimidate Parliament and the nation. The Premier announced the military and other measures which the Government intended to take to defeat this attempt.

The standpoint of the miners is that the sudden removal of control of the coal mines is the result of a pact between the Government and the mine owners to enable the owners to enforce an unjustifiable reduction in wages. The attitude of the railway men is that unless there is support of the miners at the present time a similar dilemma will happen to the railway men on some future occasion where the railways are released from Government control.

The refusal of the miners to yield on the question of permitting pump men to return to the mines had as its motive a conviction that the withdrawal of the pump men is the only weapon in their hands. They argued that a few weeks' cessation of work will not really injure the depressed condition of industry, have ample stocks of coal on the surface

They declare that the mine owners have brought this fate upon themselves by including the pump men among those whose contracts will be canceled unless they accept new wage terms made not through joint discussion, but by the mine owners themselves. The arguments of the miners find absolutely no support, except on the part of the extreme Socialist newspapers. All the other newspapers condemn them strongly.

The momentous proclamation by the Premier of a state of industrial war was made in the House of Commons in quiet but serious tones. Mr. Lloyd George read it from a prepared document. A similar statement was made in the House of Lords by Earl Curzon of Kedleston.

A deputation of the railway men and the transport workers will visit the Premier tomorrow morning to convey to him the decision of the triple alliance to back the miners. In some quarters this visit is being regarded as a new peace move. Likewise of interest is an authorized statement issued last night to the effect that the Government still is willing to call a conference, as previously suggested, to discuss the question of pumping the mines.

A supplement of the London Gazette last night contains all the necessary proclamations calling out the reserves. The Gazette states that steps are being taken to put in to force all the Government's precautionary measures to insure the operation of the public services and to maintain food supplies.

Dreadnaughts To Open Season Tomorrow—To Tackle U. S. S. Mayflower

Tomorrow Sunday, the Dreadnaught A. C., officially opens its baseball season in a contest on Baggett's field with a strong nine from the U. S. S. Mayflower. It will be recalled last season the Dreadnaughts were the center of attraction in this sport and already this season wonderful predictions are being made for a successful season. The club has gone to considerable expense and trouble in fixing a base ball ground and securing the best talent obtainable and from present outlooks they will have an aggregation of players that will make our home team second to none and will easily retain the championship of Maryland, Virginia and the Dist of Columbia.

Games have been secured for every Sunday till the last of July and in about a week the seasons schedule for home will have been arranged.

If you want high class entertainment tomorrow go to Baggett's field and support the club which is endeavoring to give you the best money and effort can afford.

A new and up to date bus line to be operated between Alexandria and Washington will start in the very near future. This line will be owned and controlled solely by local men. Three busses will operate on a twenty minute schedule starting at 6:30 in Alexandria and 7 a. m., in Washington.

The busses, which will arrive most any day now, are the most approved latest type and will seat 26 passengers comfortably. They will be finished in royal blue with yellow wheels and top. They are an improvement over the busses which have been operating in Washington 16th street for the past month and which have attracted considerable attention. The interior finish and arrangement is the latest thing on attractiveness and accomodation for comfortable travel. The regular 15 cent fare will be charged with the fare for intermediate points proportionately set.

NOTICE

I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by any one other than myself.

85-1p. Joe G. Baum.

Premier Lloyd George, in a final letter of regret to Frank Hodges secretary of the miners' union, over the situation said last night that the destruction of the mines would be as fatal to the nation as would have been defeat in the war, and to secure their preservation must be the Government's paramount duty.

The monthly meeting of the Mt. Vernon Chapter D. A. R., was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Foster, 513 Cameron street.

The chapter voted a donation toward the erection of a memorial fountain at Plymouth, Mass., in honor of the Pilgrims Mothers.

A generous donation was also made toward a painting of a convoy of transports carrying American soldiers, this being at the request of our own government through the War Department as a part of this country's permanent exhibit of world war equipment to be placed in the war museum of the Hotel des Invalides at Paris, in enduring remembrance of the sacrifices of the Allies and America in the cause of liberty in the world war.

Other business was transacted and arrangements made to assist in the 130th anniversary of the dedication of the District Southern Corner Boundary Stone at Jones' Point recently restored.

The program will follow closely the original ceremony.

Laymen Knock At Door

Baltimore Conference of Methodist Church In Session

Baltimore, Md., April 9.—Laymen of the Baltimore Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church are overwhelmingly in favor of being admitted into the sessions of the conference on almost an equal footing with the ministers. The Lay Electoral Conference yesterday ratified, by a vote of 85 to 12, an amendment handed down from the General Conference, admitting laymen as delegates. The term "lay man" includes both men and women.

Although there was some opposition to the ratification at the session of the electoral conference, held in First Presbyterian Church, even the opponents knew there was no chance to defeat it.

Real opposition from some influential ministers is expected when the measure comes up today before the Annual Conference.

The laymen's program for yesterday was double barreled. When the Electoral Conference finished its work the Laymen's Association, composed chiefly of the same men, and with a larger number of women delegates, began its session. Addresses were delivered by the retiring president, Henry S. Dulaney; the incoming president, John L. Alcock, Bishop W. F. McDowell, president of the conference; the Rev. Drs. J. C. Nicholson, George C. Peck and J. M. Gillum, fraternal visitors from the Annual Conference, and several visiting laymen.

Besides Mr. Alcock, the other officers elected are: Vice presidents, Milton C. Davis, E. T. Dixon, H. S. Omohundro, J. S. Barker and Dr. George C. Shannon; secretaries, William Hisser, Jr., Hunter R. Kern and R. C. Beall; treasurer, L. L. Derrick.

In the Annual Conference the biggest debate among the ministers was over a proposed campaign for $500,000 as an endowment fund for retired ministers. A movement to appoint a secretary and start the campaign immediately was defeated, the time being regarded as inopportune.

Reports on the centenary fund showed that the districts had paid during the year as follows: Baltimore, $88 077; Baltimore, East, $62,493, Baltimore, West, $67,274; Frederick, $41,755; Washington, $97,187.

After the session the last of the conference lectures was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Harris E. Kirk, pastor of Franklin Street Presbyterian Church.

SCHOOLS NEED MORE MONEY

Harris Hart, State Superintendent Discusses Situation

MAKE LEVIES SOON

Division Superintendents to Meet June 13-18 at University of Virginia to Discuss School Needs.

Richmond, Va., April 9.—In order to adequately meet the demand for schools during the 1921-1922 session, it will be necessary in many instances for local school boards to request a material increase in the county and district levies, declared Harris Hart, Superintendent of Public Instruction, yesterday, in discussing the needs of the State educational institutions for the coming year.

The total estimates for the session of 1921-22 for operation and maintenance of the schools will approximate $17,000,000, Mr. Hart said, of about $4,500,000 will come from the State appropriations, leaving a little over $12,000,00 to be raised locally from the city, county and district taxes.

Mr. Hart and members of his department have been busy attending many meetings of school boards and boards of supervisors. Levies for the schools are laid out during April based upon the budget presented by the school boards.

These budgets are prepared by each district board covering the estimated needs of the district, and are combined into a county budget and presented to the supervisors in order to show every detail of estimated school expenditure.

The superintendent declared that since the spring of 1918 he has been insistent on properly prepared local school budgets, in order that the supervisors may know as near as possible the actual needs of the schools and so that the department can with some accuracy tell what the schools of the State are going to need the next winter.

In the past it has been the policy of the department for members to meet with division superintendents in various parts of the State, taking them in groups of fifteen or eighteen, when the problems of that particular district would be discussed.

Due to the fact that division superintendents were elected this spring, however the department has changed its policy for this year, and has called a conference of all division superintendents at the University of Virginia during the week of June 13 to 18.

At this conference, there will be round-table discussions of the needs of the various districts as in the past and series of related lectures is also being arranged, dealing primarily with educational problems, but it is also being planned to have some on social, historical and economic questions.

The claim of the Emergency Fleet Corporation of $6,000 was agreed upon but the referee refused priority. An appeal was noted from the decision of the referee by Henry J. Gibbons, counsel for the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

To Continue Office

Move to Abolish Sunday School Secretary Defeated by Conference of M. E. Church South

Roanoke, Va., April 9.—The discussion which occupied most of the time of the Baltimore Conference, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today was in reference to the conference needs all of the preachence Sunday School secretary. A resolution was offered recommending the abolishment of this office upon the ground, especially, that the conference needs all of the preachers for pastoral work, as so few young men are entering the ministry at this time. The office was declared also to be useless by one member of the conference, he taking the stand that three fourths of the work expected of such a secretary can be done for this conference by the General Sunday School Board.

The report of the conference Sunday School board, however, recommended the appointment of a secretary, and this report was adopted instead of the resolution recommending the abolishment of the office.

The characters of five of the eight presiding elders of the conference and the majority of the members of the preachers in these districts, and all submitted their reports. The characters of two classes of under-graduate preachers also were passed and the same was true of these classes were advanced to the class of the following year.

Rev. J. J. Stowe, of Nashville, Tenn., who is secretary for the church of the department of steward ship, in both the Centenary and the Christian education movements, addressed the conference, speaking especially to the point of the criticism made against these movements for the extravagant use of money in promoting the same. He declared there is no foundation for this criticism.

Rev. W. A. Christian, T. Simpson and J. C. Reed, of the Virginia Conference, and Rev. T. N. Ivey, of Nashville, Tenn., editor of the Christian Advocate, were introduced to the conference.

The general board of church extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South needs $5,000,000 with which to carry on its extension work, members of the Baltimore conference of the church were told here last night by the Rev. C. H. C. Bunyn, Louisville, Ky., secretary of the board.

Mr. Bunyn made no plea for raising a fund nor did he go into details as to how it would be applied. He pointed out, however, that the greater portion of such an amount is needed for additional churches and more church property in the territory covered by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Moncure Retires

Richmond, April 9.—R. C. L. Moncure, collector of internal revenue for Virginia for the last seven years, will retire from public office tomorrow, his successor, State Senator John C. Noel, having announced his intention of taking charge at that time.

Collectors of internal revenue do not have fixed terms of office. They are appointed for tenure at the pleasure of the president and are removable without charges at any time. Mr. Moncure is a democrat and Mr. Noel is a republican. President Harding recently asked Mr. Moncure to resign as soon as his successor was ready to qualify. The office is one of the best politics' plums in the state the compensation being about $6,000 a year.

Regarding his plans for the future, Mr. Moncure said he was not ready to announce them at this time, other than that he expects to take a vacation of about two months first.

Washington, April 9.—State Senator John C. Noel, of Lee County, whose appointment as internal revenue collector for Virginia was announced at the White House a few days ago, came to Washington yesterday and made arrangements to take over the duties of the office tomorrow. Senator Noel's bond was approved by the treasury department today. He left Washington last night for Richmond.

Allied Intervention is Expected In Greco-Turkish Hostilities

London, April 9.—It is believed here in well-informed quarters that the Allied powers have decided to intervene in the war between Greece and Turkey as soon as it becomes evident that a stalemate has been reached. It is then hoped by the powers to bring Greeks and Turks to the realization that an acceptance of the Allied compromise proposals is the only solution of the situation.

At the present moment conversations are proceeding between the powers regarding the Turkish protest at the Greeks' use of the Dardanelles for supplying their army and augmenting its strength.

New York Bandit Stages Elevator Holdup

New York, April 9.—Street car and taxi bandits have been common enough in New York, but the hold up man has discovered a new field of operations in the elevators of the modern skyscrapers.

A well-dressed man entered Adam Miller's "lift" at the ground floor of the heels of Mrs. Anna Horgan, a cashier, who was just returning to her office from a bank with $600 in her hand bag. At the eighth floor he pressed a pistol against the elevator man's head, kicked him out of the car, snatched Mrs. Horgan's money and assisted her to leave.

With the building echoing to the cries of Miller and Mrs. Horgan, the man then ran the car to ground floor, alighted and walked away.

'PROPHET'S' ARRIVAL CAUSES FLURRY

Wears Long Hair and Beard and Garbed in White

PREACHES FOR LIVING

Says He Was Arrested 18 Times and Acquitted—Turned Loose Here and Goes to Washington

Garbed in a white canvass suit, with white linen covering his head and wearing a long flowing beard and long hair, a man describing himself as "Prophet" Otto August Marti, thirty-one years old, an American born of Dutch-Indian parents, was arraigned in the police court this morning before Justice W. S. Snow. There was no charge made against Marti and after hearing his statement Marti was at once released. He said he would go to Washington.

His garb and his long hair and beard was responsible for Marti being taken into custody. He entered St. Mary's Church yesterday afternoon. His peculiar garb resulted in a telephone call to police headquarters. Policeman Julian Rawlett responded and found the man on the street followed by a crowd of children.

Marti was at once escorted to police headquarters.

To a reporter for the Gazette Marti said he was a native of New Orleans and came here from Nitro, West Virginia. His long hair he said is for physical strength and his white uniform he asserted draws the holy spirit according to the Book of John.

Marti says that he is a carpenter and painter but added he can do almost any kind of work. Since 1918 he says, he has been a "Prophet."

Asked to give some of his prophecies he said that he prophesied the date for the end of the war and also prophesied a rain following a protracted drought in 1918.

The "Prophet" has decided views on regulating the affairs of the government. To begin with, he said that he once was a candidate for President of the United States on the Independent American ticket, and he says he received 268 electoral votes but was counted out. Marti in addition to being a "Prophet," also asserts that he has the power of healing and for this uses hot water and say prayers. In order to earn livelihood he says he preaches in most of the places he visits and takes up a free will offering which amounts to from $3 to $5 a day which pays his operating expenses. He expressed himself as favoring a universal wage, house rent, and prices in general and also favors universal peace. All these things to be regulated by the government.

According to Marti he has been taken in custody eighteen times since he started out on his travels, but each time was released from custody.

Marti also served in the army fifty-nine days, twenty-six of which he spent in the hospital, after which which he was discharged he says.

Sixty Seventh Congress.

The opening of the Sixty-Seventh Congress Monday morning marks the beginning of a new period in national politics. For the first time since 1910 the Republican Party is in control of all branches of the government. There will be 300 Republicans, 132 Democrats and 1 Socialist in the new House, while the Senate will be composed of 59 Republicans and 37 Democrats. With a clear majority of 167 in the House and 22 in the Senate, and with a popular majority of 7,000,000 votes in the last election, the party in power faces the greatest opportunity of its existence and a responsibility of commensurate gravity. These are serious times. Not one but a hundred problems of reconstruction and rehabilitation remain to be solved. The Republicans have been bitterly criticizing all attempts of the previous administration to meet them and the last Congress under their control obstinately refused to co-operate with the program of a Democratic President. Now they are in power, absolute power, and they must either put up or shut up.

The path of the new Congress will not be strewn with roses. It is expected to lower the cost of living while at the same time it maintains the present standard of wages. Higher tariff duties necessarily in restraint of trade, it is virtually pledged to impose, while at the same time there is a great demand for the development of American commerce. It has promised the people reduced taxes and finds itself face to face with the possibility of being forced to impose new ones. It has pledged itself to make peace with Germany in so many different ways that the "best minds" themselves are divided into three or four different sets of opinion on the subject. And besides all this, those who have their ear to the ground already begin to discern the revival of those groups which in 1912 broke the G. O. P. into two camps, one of Progressives and the other Standpatters.

There is inherent in the very nature of the Republican victory of last November disastrous consequences for the party unless it has strong, forceful leadership. To say that such leadership shows no signs of existence either at one end of Pennsylvania Avenue or the other is merely to repeat what everybody already knows.

James Jones, an old darkey who was the body servant of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederate States, has passed away and with his passing there goes perhaps forever the hope of finding the great seal of the Confederacy, which he is said to have buried and alone to have known its burial place. Well, perhaps it is best that the old emblem, like the old cause, should be put away and never taken out again that they should exist only in the hearts of those who once gave them their allegiance, their heroic services and their finest measure of devotion, and in the proud memories of their children and children's children.

Congressman Manuel Herrick, a new Republican member from Oklahoma, writes to friends in his home town that he is going to introduce a bill to move the capital of the United States at least as far west as Chicago, for the reason, he says, that "in Washington a Congressman is looked upon as a joke, but out west he is regarded as superior to others." Washington has had more experience with Congressmen than the west and perhaps knows them better.

SPORTS

The Alexandria Athletic Association baseball team will play the fast Miami A. C., of Washington, on the shipyard grounds Sunday at 3 p. m. This Washington Club comes here with three straight wins out of as many starts, so far this season. The stand already in use at the grounds will soon have a cover placed over it to afford good accommodations to the fans who like to watch the national game as played under the association's name. A full schedule of games through April, May and June is now drawn up and an invitation is extended to the public to attend as they are to be given real sport. "If it is baseball, we have it every Sunday."

A meeting of the club will be held in the club room at 605 King street tonight and all members or all who wish to join are requested to be on hand. Ball players without fail.

A. A. A. EMBLEMS AGAIN ON WHITE HOUSE CARS

Washington, D. C., April 9.—The White House automobiles have new A A A. radiator emblems. President Warren G. Harding is a member of the Marion County Automobile Association which is a part of the Ohio State Automobile Association that is affiliated with the American Automobile Association. At the direction of David Jameson, president of the national body, seconded by F. F. Bentley, head of the Ohio association, the A. A. A. headquarters here had special emblems made for the official governmental cars showing that the car user believed in locality, state, and nation wide motoring cooperation.

Having made numerous road trips between Washington and Marion, most of the route being over the "Old National Road," President Harding has repeatedly come in contact with actual highway conditions and in consequence has given the subject no small amount of attention.

One point which he has always emphasized has had to do with proper maintenance after construction, and this opinion has been expressed by him again and again. There is a belief that in any future Federal help to the states in highways, the "Head of the Nation" will insist upon a maintenance provision which shall be definitely expressed

RUSSIAN FACTIONS MERGE

Stockholm, April 9.—Soviet Russia and the Soviet Republic of White Russia have signed a treaty under which they become a single republic, according to reports received here yesterday.

Dispatches from Scandinavian sources last month reported the formation of a Democratic white Russia republic, taking in the region around Minsk and Vitebsk. The "White Ruthenians" in this district were said to have proclaimed their independence from Soviet Russia, planning to assemble a legislature in Vitebsk in May and later to make Minsk their capital.

THOMPSON MAY RUN AGAIN IN CHICAGO

Chicago, April 9.—Mayor William Hale Thompson is said to have decided to be a candidate for re-election for a third term. He is the first four year term mayor who was ever re-elected to a second term.

This decision eliminates him as a candidate for United States Senator in 1924. His battle for a third term as mayor will come in the spring of 1923. His chieftains, no less than the mayor himself, are confident that he can win again.

It is said that Gov. Small will back Mayor Thompson's ambitions for a third term to "the end of the road," as one chieftain puts it. mayor has built up a powerful machine. This has been greatly strengthened by the county patronage he recently bagged. This, in addition to State patronage the governor can throw his way, will make him almost invincible.

Feminine Jealousies Disrupt Police Squad

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 9.—Despite the restrictions upon their wardrobes, imposed by the necessity of wearing uniforms, feminine jealousies have disrupted women's squad of the Kalamazoo Police Department, Chief Tappe declared today, in announcing that he has requested the resignations of two of its members.

"Something had to be done," he wrote to City Manager Harry Freeman, "the women are supposed to work together, irrespective of personalities, but there has been friction for weeks and co-operation has become impossible—dismissal was the only solution.

SPRING REDUCTION IN PRICES ON COAL:

We are today reducing our prices on both Anthracite and Bituminous coal and will be glad to enter orders for Spring delivery.

The mines claim their present prices are as low as their cost of production will permit and that Anthracite coal will be higher by Fall.

The preparation and the quality of the coal we are now receiving is better than it has been for several years.

The freight is still high but there seems very little likelihood of a reduction shortly.

We have been able to reduce our cost of handling and our trade gets the benefit of this saving.

It is not possible for us to know whether this is the best time to buy your winters coal, but we are sure that a reasonable tonnage will have to be mined, transported and delivered through the Spring and Summer months to avoid a coal shortage and high prices next Fall and Winter.

When May Likes Snow Best, Best Gets the Worst of It

Elizabeth, N. J., April 9.—Just as he was preparing to go to Birmingham, Ala., to become the husband of Miss Frances Howard May, socially prominent, daughter of Dr. A. N. May, of that city, Felix Best, of 1118 Anna street, Elizabeth N. J., received a telegram from the girl announcing her elopement with R. N. Snow, of Birmingham, Ala., despite the fact that Best had contracted with tradesmen to renovate his home, a palatial residence, for the reception of his bride.

He declared that the work will go on.

The shattered romance was of war origin. Best was a lieutenant in the 29th Division. He was in camp at Anniston, Ala., and made a trip to Birmingham. There he met Miss May. The friendship was continued when he returned from France. Best went to Birmingham and visited Miss May last September. She came to New York, where she attended a finishing school. "DEATH FARM" CASE JURY IN GEORGIA DEADLOCKED

Covington, Ga., April 9.—Eight hours after the case had been put into thir hands, the jury in the trial of John Williams, Jasper county plantation owner charged with murder in connection with the death of 11 negroes, alleged to have been killed, following an investigation of peonage conditions on his place, had been unable last night to reach an agreement.

The case was given to the jury shortly before 4 o'clock, and late last night they still were considering it without having made any report. Indications at that hour were that no verdict would be reached last night and that the court would direct that they be locked up until tomorrow morning.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our only and dear beloved daughter, ETHEL MAY KIMBALL, who departed this life six months ago tomorrow, October 10, 1920.
Through all pain at times she'd smile,
A smile of Heavenly birth;
And when the angels called her home
She smiled farewell to earth.
Heaven retaineth now our treasure,
Earth the lonely casket keeps;
And the sunbeams love to linger,
Where our sainted daughter sleeps
Devotedly Mother and Father.
She was the one with soul divine,
Whose heart was constant and true,
One who was the same all of the time.
Dearest Ethel, this was you.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my dear grandmother, MRS. AMERICA KEYES, "best known as Ammie" who left us for a better home, three years ago, April 10, 1918.
Three years ago dear Ammie,
Since we laid you to rest,
And we miss you still,
The Ammie we loved the best.
Yes, we miss you still dear Ammie,
Though three long years have passed
The vacant spot within our hearts
No one else can fill.
You are free from your sorrows,
Free from all suffering and care,
You have gone to rest with loved ones
Waiting over there.
In Sharon's quiet church yard,
Where loved ones sweetly sleep,
The angels wings will rustle
While their vigils keep.

Jefferson Davis' Colored Bodyguard Dies

Washington., April 9.—Taking with him to the grave the secret of the whereabouts of the great seal of the Confederacy, which he hid as Jefferson Davis was captured, James E. Jones, the colored bodyguard of the President of the Confederate States died here today.

Throughout his long life, with its latter years spent in the government service in Washington, Jones would never reveal what became of the Confederate seal. "Marse Jeff" had bidden that he never tell—and he never did. Veterans of Union and Confederate armies, newspaper writers, curosity seekers and curio hunters, from time to time, urged Jones to reveal where he buried the great seal. They argued that the War Between the States was far in the past and the seal should be produced for the inspection of the younger generation of today and the generations that are to follow a united country. Always Jones shook his head, and to the end he maintained his silence.

The colored bodyguard was with Jefferson Davis when his capture was effected. In fact, he is said to have warned his master of the approach of the enemy, but President Davis did not escape in time. Jones accompanied President Davis to Fort Monroe, where he was placed in prison.

Jones was born in Warren County, N. C., after the war he headed a colored fire department in Raleigh and became a minor city official. He turned Republican in politics, but always voted for Representative William Ruffin Cox, of North Carolina who represented the State in the House in the Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth Congresses. Later, when Cox became secretary of the United States Senate, he brought Jones to Washington with him and gave him a messenger's job in the Senate. That was in 1893. Since that time he had several jobs about the Capitol and was a messenger in the Senate stationery room until a short time before his death.

The body of the old colored man will be taken to Raleigh tomorrow for burial.

Caruso Sings Again; Voice Good as Ever

New York, April 9.—Enrico Caruso sang today for the first time since he was stricken with an attack of suppurative pleurisy shortly before Christmas, his golden voice pouring forth several bars from "Martha" before an audience of two friends who are admitted occasionally to his apartments. These friends said afterward that the great voice showed no impairment because of the illness of the tenor and that it possessed all of its old-time richness and beauty. The news that Caruso had sung again went quickly to Guilio Gatti-Casazza, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera House and within a few minutes the whole staff of the opera and all of the artists knew that Caruso had defied predictions so freely uttered that his famous throat was forever closed to song.

Friends of Mr. Caruso who have seen him recently have been surprised that he has changed so little after such a severe illness. When he became ill he weighed 225 pounds and just after he had pulled through the relapse of a month ago he tipped the scale at 165.

WANTS RAPID DIVORCE TRIAL

New York, April 9.—Reports that James A. Stillman, president of the National City Bank of New York, was anxious to press his divorce suit to rapid conclusion were confirmed yesterday by his attorneys. They turned over to Mrs. Stillman's counsel $62,500 for counsel fees and alimony which they had been given until May 4 to pay in installments.

With the check for that amount was a letter saying Mr. Stillman "desires a prompt trial of the issues and is not disposed to furnish any excuse for delay by staying the proceedings pending an appeal."

Previously it had been announced that an appeal from the order granting alimony, counsel fees and expenses would be taken, and the letter today set forth that the payment was made "without prejudice to our right to appeal from the other within the 30 days allowed by law."

Proposing that hearings before a referee be resumed April 20, Mr. Stillman's attorneys said they would not appeal unless "convinced that there is no probability of a trial at a reasonably early date." Counsel for Mrs. Stillman were not prepared to say last night whether they would be ready to reopen hearings by April 20.

The court order in question, besides fixing alimony and fees, ruled out of consideration the so-called "confession letters" sent to Mr. Stillman by his wife and other letters alleged to have been written to Mrs. Stillman by one of her husband's servants, Fred Beauvais, an Indian guide, named by the banker as co-respondent. Mr. Stillman charged that Beauvais was the father of Mrs. Stillman's youngest son, Guy. When the order was granted the banker's counsel objected both to the payments called for and the inclusion of the correspondence. They declared it would impose a hardship upon the financier to give up $62,500 on that day and they were granted 30 days to complete payment of the sum. Mrs. Stillman's attorneys asked for a stay of trial proceedings until May 19, but this was later changed to extend over the time required for the payments.

Mr. Stillman's charges against his wife were contained in his complaint filed last July. The wife merely denied the allegations at first, but later took the aggressive. In an amended answer she accused Mr. Stillman of being the father of Jay Ward Leeds 30 months old son of a former chorus girl, and of living with this woman as "Mr. and Mrs. Franklin H. Leeds."

SHONTS WILL OBJECTION WITHDRAWN BY WIDOW

New York, April 9.—The contest over the will of Theodore P. Shonts New York traction magnate, was settled today when his widow withdrew her objection to probate of the instrument and with it all her allegations concerning Mrs. Amanda C. Thomas, to whom the bulk of the estate was left.

After the petition withdrawing the objections to the will had been entered, the attorneys appeared before Surrogat Foley and the will was admitted to pobate, formally terminating the contest which was instutted by Mrs. Shonts December 4, 1919.

In her petition, Mrs. Shonts declared that she is convinced that the objections cannot be sustained and that her huseband possesed the necessary mental capacity to execute the document and that it is a valid and legal instrument.

With the petition, Mrs. Shonts also filed a deposition retracting all charges she had made against Mrs. Thomas.

There was nothing in the papers to indicate on what basis the settlement of thecontest was made.

Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

TO "RAISE" CHILDREN.

GRAMMARIANS generally are agreed that it is not correct to apply the term "raise" to the rearing or education or bringing up of children. The verb "raise" is applied with propriety only to crops or cattle, never to human beings. "She raised a family of eight children," says a charity report; it should have said, "She reared" or "she brought up." The Standard dictionary ridicules the expression, attributed to a Southern county, "She raised thirteen head of children."

The term "brought up" is the more modern of the two; the term "reared" is older. The misuse of the term "raised" is a colloquialism that is common in some of the Southern and Western states.

Some authorities criticize the use of the verb "grow" in connection with crops, asserting that we should not say, "We grow wheat on our farms" but should say, "We raise wheat."

O

Harvest Moon.

Sir John Frederick William Herschel, the great English physicist and astronomer, said that the full moon which happens on or nearest to the 21st of September is called the harvest moon. At or about the time of harvest in the north temperate zone, the sun in its usual course is approaching the celestial equator, which it crosses from north to south on September 22. On that date it sets close to the western point of the horizon. If it happens to be then also full moon, the moon rises that evening as the sun sets, and it at its rising opposite the sun, or close to the exact eastern point of the horizon. Thus it begins to give light at sunset and continues to do so until sunrise, when it sets opposite the sun, just as the latter rises. This arrangement holds good without any great change for several days, so that there is practically no darkness, especially if the weather is fine. The full moon which thus illuminates the autumn nights is called the harvest moon.

The roughneck politician burst into the lawyer's office and in an excited manner asked:

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"BOLSHEVIKI."

LIFTED bodily from the Russian where the term means the left or radical wing of the political party as opposed to the "mensheviki" or conservative element, "Bolsheviki" has been imported into America together with many of the false and unsound doctrines to which its members subscribe.

Originally the term was analagous to and had no more sinister meaning than "radical," as used in connection with British politics. A Bolshevik was one who opposed the conservatives—not necessarily an advocate of arson and bloodshed, but a person who believed in a progressive policy instead of following a reactionary course. Until the overthrow of the Romanoff dynasty, the Bolsheviki did not number anarchists and nihilists in their ranks. These disturbers of the peace were kept under close surveillance by the police and were given no opportunity to ally themselves with any political organization. During the chaos which followed the death of the czar, the extremely radical element came into control and the name Bolshevik fell into disrepute—becoming synonomous with "red," the red flag having been from time immemorial the symbol of lawlessness and disorder.

"Come at once"

HAVE you ever received this message in the middle of the night?

Perhaps it concerned someone dear to you lying ill in the hospital.

Messages like that have a way of arriving in the middle of the night. Grim, urgent, fearsome messages!

But the fact that it is night does not cripple your quick answer to that call.

Instantly, with one movement of your hand, your house is lighted, making great speed possible. On the way to the hospital the streets, with their brilliant lamps, give you encouragement. The world is not so dark a place after all.

The great hospital, itself, is throbbing with activity.

Science, surgeons, nurses no longer wait for daytime to aid them in relieving pain—in saving lives.

The operating room, with its great white lights and the X-ray apparatus, is as busy at two in the morning as at ten.

The marvelous advance in delicate surgery is due in no small degree to the recent application of electricity to the needs of science.

Out of your anxiety on such a night comes a realization of how electricity is helping you and helping that loved one in the hospital.

Behind all this light—what? Every single electric bulb in the country glows against the background of huge dams and water turbines (in the case of water power), or the tremendous boilers, turbines, engines and generators (in steam plants) and against the wires of high-tension transmission lines and the innumerable smaller wires stretching like a web from your very bedside out over the whole country.

And still behind these—what?

A thrilling story of thrift and investment. The story of some 1,450,000 men and women who by their thrift are investing millions of dollars in the electric light and power industry. These investors not only provide for themselves a steady income, but for their fellow citizens a service that today is an absolute necessity to our business and social life.

Elderly Women Lock Selves Three Years in Hotel Room

Hoboken, N. J., April 9.—A strange case of voluntary exile of two elderly women of moderate means, who locked themselves in a suite of three rooms in a centrally located hotel for more than three years, was revealed to the authorities yesterday.

Until yesterday, the women, Miss Caroline Sunderland and Mrs. Fannie Miller, had not left their rooms since January, 1918. They had lived entirely on canned goods ordered by mail. Their rooms were paid for by checks thrust through a crack under the door.

The story came to light when the hotel proprietor complained to Health Commissioner Stack of the accumulation of empty cans on the fire escape. The commisisoner gained admittance to the rooms only after he threatened to break down the door.

Miss Sunderland, the elder of the two, was ill in bed, suffering from tuberculosis in an advanced stage. She was taken to a hospital, where it was said she probably would not live long.

Mrs. Miller said they had shut themselves from the world because "they had to," and would make no other statement. After Miss Sunderland was taken to the hospital Mrs. Miller sought rooms elsewhere.

Mrs. Fannie Miller, the younger of the two women, later was removed to a hospital for examination, police believing the condition in which the women had lived may have deranged her mind.

In a remarkable story told to police inspectors, Mrs. Miller, who is well educated, said her husband died several years ago, leaving her a large estate in stocks and bonds. She received the income from a trust fund, but recently weekly remittances of $50 from a cousin in Kansas City had ceased.

QUESTION WOMAN

IDENTIFIED BY HARRIS

New York, April 8.—But one development took place yesterday in connection with the "confession" of Roy Harris that he was one of two men hired by a "Mrs. Fairchild" to murder Joseph Bowne Elwell on June 11 last. Capt. Arthur Carey, of the homicide bureau, and Inspector Coughlin, in charge of the detective bureau, on receiving by telegraph from Detective Sergeant Henry P. Oswald, who was sent to Buffalo to look into the alleged confession, a description of the mysterious woman, with a suggestion as to the exact identity of the person whom Harris proposed to identify, sent two detectives to interview a woman who once figured largely in the life of Joseph B. Elwell, but who had not been on friendly terms with him for some considerable time prior to his death.

When the detectives came to her home this woman was inclined at first to refuse them admittance, but on second thought let them into her apartment and give them a piece of her mind, telling them they ought to be ashamed to go out on such an errand or to be the messengers of such insinuations against a respectable woman trying to make a living and wishing that Elwell had never come into her life.

Harris will be brought to New York probably Sunday, it was announced late last night.

A suggestion was thrown out today that Harris had either been "planted" or used as a "plant" by certain members of the police department anxious to interfere with the investigation which Special Assistant District Attorney Whitman is conducting into the Elwell case, as a part of his general inquiry into police and other city affairs.

Mr. Whitman, who was not at the District Attorney's office yesterday afternoon, declined to discuss this suggestion last night.

Roy Harris, the confessed partner in the murder of Joseph Bowne Elwell last June, disclosed to correspondents here today the identity of the woman whom he believes to be the "Mrs. Fairchild" who hired him and his colleague to kill the New York sportsman.

When he was handed a series of photographs he ran his eyes intently from one to the other and, after studying one for about two minutes, he placed his finger on it and said:

"This is the woman whose name I gave to Detective Oswald as the one whom I thought was Mrs. Fairchild. The picture I saw of her in the newspaper shortly after the crime, though was different from this, but the hair nose, eyes and mouth look very much the same."

Mother's Cook Book

Make yourselves nests of pleasant thoughts, bright patches, scented memories, noble histories, faithful sayings, treasure houses of precious and restful thoughts, which care cannot disturb, pain not make gloomy, nor poverty take away from us—houses built without hands, for our souls to live in.—John Ruskin.

SIMPLE DESSERTS.

CUSTARDS, in various forms and flavors, rice, tapioca, gelatin and fruits are all good desserts for the little people. Fruits are stimulating; milk, eggs, and such combinations are nourishing, and these simple foods, when served in variety, will never become monotonous.

Apricot Charlotte.

Wash one-fourth pound of dried apricots, cover with cold water and soak over night. Cook in the same water until soft, then rub through a sieve. Soak one tablespoonful of gelatin in one-third of a cupful of cold water, add one-third of a cupful of boiling water, the juice of a lemon, one cupful of sugar and the strained apricot. Cool, and when the jelly begins to thicken, beat until light, then add the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs and continue beating until the mixture holds its shape. Chill and serve with whipped cream.

Mock Sherbet.

Cook one-half cupful of minute tapioca, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of sugar and two cupfuls of boiling water, together until clear, using a double boiler. Add the juice of two lemons about five minutes before taking from the fire, also the yellow rind of one lemon. Pour the mixture on a platter which has been dipped in cold water. As soon as the edges begin to jelly add two egg whites beaten stiff. Beat until light and foamy. Serve very cold in sherbet cups with whipped cream on top.

Coconut Custard.

Prepare a custard for cup custards, pour into cups and sprinkle the top of each with a teaspoonful of fresh, grated coconut. Bake in hot water until firm. Chill before serving.

BACK GIVES OUT

Plenty of Alexandria Readers Have This Experience.

You tax the kidneys—overwork them—

They can't keep up the continual strain.

The back may give out—it may ache and pain;

Urinary troubles may set in.

Don't wait longer—take Doan's Kidney Pills.

Alexandria people tell you how they act.

Mrs. Mary Williams, 914 Duke St., Alexandria, says: "About two years ago I was suffering terribly from kidney trouble. My back pained me so at times I could hardly get about. Nights, lying in bed, it seemed as though my back were broken. My kidneys acted much too freely and that broke my rest. Mornings I felt stiff and sore and could hardly get out of bed. I was completely run down. Doan's Kidney Pills soon gave me relief and after I had finished two boxes my kidneys acted naturally and the pains in my back were gone. I was entirely cured."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Williams had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
